Mark the Date June 9 as “Children’s Day” in America

- Celebrated in America for Over 150 Years

Batavia, Ill., April 23, 2013 (The Religion Wire™) —

Individuals, groups, and churches across America are being urged to mark their calendar and plan for Sunday, June 9, 2013, as “Children’s Day.”

Children’s Day

Second Sunday in June

The website www.nationalchildrensday.us brings attention to this special day for children, the second Sunday in June, which predates both Mother’s and Father’s Day.

Since 2007, the governor of the state of Illinois has proclaimed “Children’s Day” on the second Sunday in June. Also such cities as Aurora, Ill.; Batavia, Ill.; Fort Collins, Colo.; and Vancouver, Wash.; have issued proclamations.

John Ross, advocate for Children’s Day and part of a growing movement spearheaded by the website, expressed his hope for further expansion of the day.

“I am so pleased with the grassroots effort in 2012 for the day. The state and local proclamations and the ongoing work of individuals, churches, and organizations for the day speaks volumes to its potential in 2013 and beyond. So mark the date and set your plans for our children. Let us not forget this very important part of the American family, our children. Children’s Day is truly becoming a special day in America.”

Add one — Mark the Date June 9 as “Children’s Day”

Children’s Day observations in the United States predate both Mother’s and Father’s Day. The day to celebrate children dates from the 1860s and earlier. The Methodist Episcopal Church at the Methodist Conference of 1868 recommended that the second Sunday in June be observed annually as Children’s Day. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in 1883 designated the “the second Sabbath in June as Children’s Day.”

Chase’s Calendar of Events cites Children’s Sunday and notes that The Commonwealth of Massachusetts issues an annual proclamation for the second Sunday in June.

Numerous churches and denominations currently observe the second Sunday in June including the African Methodist Episcopal Church, African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, and the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Children’s Day website, www.nationalchildrensday.us, offers helps and also challenges parents, individuals, churches/houses of worship, schools/places of education, government/community and businesses to sign commitment cards directed at affirming America’s children. They pledge to “commit myself (ourselves), in the coming year, to love, cherish, nurture (physical, mental, emotional, & spiritual needs), and affirm...” They can also make a commitment beyond America to the world’s children.
